

Report of the talk on SPUNER

A talk was organised in the Department on October 25, 2018. The talk was delivered by Mr. Hibu Tamang IPS, Additional Commissioner of Police, Delhi Police. The topic of his talk was “Special Police Unit for North Eastern Region, SPUNER”, a special police unit set up by Delhi Police to help people who came to the capital from 8 states of North Eastern India.

The talk focused on the activities and purpose of SPUNER. Some people from the north east are recruited to act as ambassadors to bridge the gap between police and people of the north east region. Delhi police personnel under SPUNER are sensitised to the mosaic and diverse culture and history of north east India. They also provided a list of hospitals which provide concessional treatment for north east people. Many lawyers also provide free legal advice to north east people. A police helpline number 1093 is started specially for north east people in distress.

The talk was attended by students and faculty members. Each attendant appreciated the work done by Delhi Police. The speaker was accompanied by 6 police personnel. SPUNER set up a pavilion where booklets and cards were displayed, which were later distributed to the students.

SPUNER also presented a memento to each of the faculty members. The Head of Department thanked and presented the distinguished speaker a memento on behalf of the Department.
